Canadians Have Hoedown On Eve Of Invasion Battle

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Patterson have received several letters from their son, Jack, who is medical officer of an eastern Canadian unit now at Caen. He describes the landing as follows:

We landed about ten to 15 minutes after the first few troops hit the shore. The shore was a hell on earth and how I ever got off alive after staying there tending the wounded for two and a half hours, God alone can explain. I will say this that I never expected to make it. The Hun was machine-gunning and mortaring that beach something mercilessly all the time I was there and how the three of the six of us in the R.A.P. got off there alive is a story that will never be told. We were supposed to make a rush for cover and leave all the wounded for a beach-dressing station, but we saw no signs of it coming in, so decided to stay and do what we could. I saw a lot of those hectic minutes—a lot of bravery, and a lot of suffering, which I'll never forget. I never enjoyed my profession before or since to the same extent because we really were appreciated even though we could do so little.

Then we pushed on inland and I started to have civilian casualties as well as military to worry about. It was amazing the way the civilians survived those few hectic hours but some of them were hurt and you just had to do what you could for them. We took some awful chances going into houses to help the wounded when we might have just walked into Hun traps.

I went back to the beach on the day following our landing

(in a German staff car) for a drive and the amount of shipping, which was still coming, was unbelievable. They say that since then the amount of daily shipping has been multiplied many times over and so I guess it is even more than I can estimate. I'll never be able to feel the relief again that we felt when we saw the artillery and tanks start to come in to support us. I guess it's all in the game, however, and we have been very, very fortunate to have the

Town Ladies Take CWAC In 28-14 Softball Tilt

The town ladies' softball team were the guests of the C.W.A.C. at the fair grounds Monday evening and came home with another win, 28-14. Home runs were the feature of the game with six players running the circuit. Marg. VanZant of the town nine started the ball rolling with a heavy clout to left field. Mary Osborne, Deane Multhead and Agnes Wilmet followed through, each bringing an extra run across the plate with them.

Agnes Wilmet, relieving Phyllis Osborne on the mound, pitched the best ball of the season allowing only one run and striking out five. Ruth Armistage, playing second for locals, made three lovely catches to block off what looked like sure hits. Russell, behind the plate, and Tebe at second were standouts for the C.W.A.C.

A return match is promised for the near future at the school grounds.

Davis Leather defeated Dixon Pencil in a close contest at Stuart Scott grounds Monday evening. The contest was marred by arguments over provision for umpires. It is pointed out that it is up to the league executive to supply umpires, not the coaches of the teams.

Friday evening at Stuart Scott school grounds softball enthusiasts were treated to a fine exhibition of ball.

The Davis ladies made the going tough for the town gals all through the game and only by exceptionally good fielding were the towners able to hold the runners to two runs and forge ahead in the fifth inning to gain a substantial lead.

Every member played good ball for the town team with young school girls holding top honors. Shirley Andrews took a hard-hitting drive off Marg. Wilmet's bat in deep left field to end what looked like the first home run of the season. Mary Ellen MacInnis, a new comer to the town aggregation and the baby of the softball league, shows promise of being one of the best fielders.

Margaret Hiley of the Davis club, playing her usual good game, was always in the right spot at the right time, three times nipping what looked like sure hits. Pemberton also played good ball at second base.

QUEENSVILLE BROTHERS SERVE

James Law on behalf of Dixon Pencil Co. Ltd.: "The passing of our dear friend, W. H. S. Cane, is felt deeply by all those who knew him when he was associated with the Dixon Pencil Company Limited. We know the sterling integrity of his character, and his keen, but liberal sweep of thought, and his circle of friends was large. This, and his great wealth of knowledge in the pencil industry, was of immeasurable value at the 'birth' of our little industry in Newmarket.

"We will all miss him greatly, and extend our sincere sympathy to his dear wife and family in their bereavement."

H. E. Gilroy: "In the passing of Howard Cane, his many friends in Newmarket will ever cherish his memory."

"Mr. Cane's life was an inspiration to all with whom he associated; his kindly and thoughtful disposition will long remain in the minds of those who knew him. He lived his life trying to bring cheer and happiness to others."

"In business and church affairs his foresight and judgment was always regarded as outstanding."

"We extend our sympathy to his family in their great loss."

J. E. Nesbitt: "The death of Howard Cane brings to our attention the passing of one of Newmarket's sons, in the true sense of the meaning. He was born here and remained here nearly all his life."

"He was a public spirited citizen and accepted the responsibility that goes with good citizenship. It was my good fortune to have the opportunity of sitting in council with Howard for several years and also the three years he was mayor of the town."

"He was very popular and was a good friend to everybody, often helping some poor soul at his own expense. It was Howard's whole ambition to carry out the tradition of his ancestors who figure very prominently in the history of Newmarket."

French Hay Fields Full Of Buckcorn, Son Writes

Mr. and Mrs. David Love, Newmarket, have received an interesting letter from their son, Pte. Murray Love, who is in France.

"Just a line to let you know everything is going fine," he writes. "There is very little to write about but I will write every three or four days just to keep in contact in case something does go off the record, which I sincerely hope does not."

"The people back home crab about a few ration but if they saw what the French are taking they would be too ashamed to ever crab again, although the French people don't seem to be too upset about it."

"The crops over here are very good, some great fields of hay, even though they are all full of buckcorn. Apparently they don't bother much with seed over here."

"The houses are all cement or stone. I haven't seen a frame house yet and the funny part of it is the floors are cement too. Sometimes even the floors upstairs are cement."

—Mr. and Mrs. A. J. King and family of Toronto are spending two weeks vacation with Mrs. King's mother, Mrs. Roy Watson.

—Mrs. Doreen Ash, Sharon, spent a couple of days last week with her cousin, Miss Bette Ash.

—Miss Velma Thompson, Mount Albert, has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Greig.

CITIZENS PAY FINAL HOMAGE AS HOWARD CANE BURIED HERE

Mayor of Newmarket in 1922, 1923 and 1924, W. H. S. Cane died in Toronto on Friday morning after an illness of a year and a half.

William Howard Seba Cane was born in Newmarket on April 24, 1879, a son of the late May Armistage and Henry S. Cane. He married Bertha Mickle in September, 1906.

Mr. Cane served on the Newmarket town council as a councillor for a number of years, becoming mayor in 1922. He spent most of his life in Newmarket, working in the pencil department of Wm. Cane and Sons. A number of years ago, Mr. Cane sold the pencil factory to Dixon's. It is thought that Cane's factory was one of the first pencil manufacturers in Canada.

Mr. Cane was deputy-sheriff of Toronto and York county, and was made sheriff about nine years ago.

A member of the United church, Mr. Cane was a trustee of Trinity United church at Newmarket. He and Mrs. Cane moved to Toronto a few years ago. Mr. Cane was also a member of the Masonic Order. His chief interest was his family.

Three of Mr. Cane's four sons are in the armed services. F.O. Philmore Cane is stationed at Montreal, Lieut. Allan Cane is overseas and P.O. William Cane is at Mountain View. Mr. Cane's eldest son, Charles, is working in Toronto. Besides his widow and four sons, one brother, L. P. Cane, Newmarket, survives.

PARTY IS SATURDAY

St. John's Roman Catholic garden party has been postponed until Saturday evening.

CHILD DROWNS

Joel David Sokoloff, aged 20 months, of Toronto, was drowned Tuesday in Lake Simcoe near Trent City. The child had been put in his play pen by his mother, who had gone about her housework. It is thought by the police that the child had crawled out of his pen and down to the lake where he was found by a neighbor. Artificial respiration was applied for five hours without success.

James Law on behalf of Dixon Pencil Co. Ltd.: "The passing of our dear friend, W. H. S. Cane, is felt deeply by all those who knew him when he was associated with the Dixon Pencil Company Limited. We know the sterling integrity of his character, and his keen, but liberal sweep of thought, and his circle of friends was large. "He was very popular and was a good friend to everybody, often helping some poor soul at his own expense. It was Howard's whole ambition to carry out the tradition of his ancestors who figure very prominently in the history of Newmarket."

Tributes To Howard Cane

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales: "There will be many tributes to the memory of Howard Cane both public and private. I feel it an honor to add my words of praise to a long and useful life of one who contributed greatly in a quiet way to the history in the progress of Newmarket."

"To speak of Newmarket during the last 50 years was to recall the influential and successful Cane family and the large place they filled in the social and business life of the town. A true member of that family was Howard Cane—always thoughtful, generous and intensely interested in the welfare of the people of this municipality."

"He dearly loved Newmarket and it was a real sacrifice to his personal interests when he was compelled to take up the work of county sheriff in a Toronto office. He occupied office in all the town's organizations and for three years generously gave of his time as mayor of the town."

"A fact not generally known is that Howard Cane was a member of the first York County hospital board sitting on it with B. W. Hunter, Father Wedlock and myself. In those days the hospital struggled against superstition and native opposition. But he saw a vision of a useful institution and gave advice and support to a great idea which today has become a large and helpful institution."

"In like manner, with his able and untiring wife, he represented the Children's Aid in Newmarket and found pleasure in assisting and bettering the chances and fortunes of neglected children. Many were the kindnesses done unknown to anyone over a long period of time."

"His happy optimistic character endeared him to all. A staunch Liberal, he never wavered in his loyalty to the principles he believed best for the problems of his country."

"Never able to forget his native town, he spent the first part of every business interview enquiring as to how his old friends in Newmarket were and what was going on back home."

"The council of Newmarket and the many people who knew him here join in offering a sincere expression of sympathy to his kind and unselfish wife and to the illustrious family who mourn his passing. Truly it can be said: 'There was a man.'"

G. L. Manning: "The passing of W. H. S. Cane, sheriff of York County, has meant the loss of one of Newmarket's native sons who gave considerably of his time and efforts towards the bettering and development of his native town and country."

"He not only played an important part in the business life of the town of Newmarket, but also found time to serve on the local council for several years, latterly as mayor for three terms."

"He was highly respected by all, and his community is much better for his having lived in it."

Dr. S. J. Boyd: "In writing a few thoughts about the life of the late Howard Cane I will confine my remarks to his personal qualities and leave the enumeration of his achievements to other writers."

"When, two years ago, I was pretty sick myself and a patient in Toronto General hospital, Howard Cane called on me one afternoon carrying a big bouquet of roses. His pleasant smile, hearty hand shake and cheerful conversation did me a world of good."

"That is the sort of man Howard Cane was. He was a true friend and a worthy opponent. You always knew which side he was on when any question of importance was being decided."

"He was an outstanding temperance man. That was one subject upon which he and I always agreed. His boys and mine went to public and high school together and were friendly with one another. I had reason to know that Howard was a kind and good father, always giving his boys wise advice and a good example. His boys have every reason to cherish his memory."

"When I was mayor of Newmarket during the depression he helped me every way he could. There were many worthy families on relief at the time and much suffering. Many a time when I was at a loss to know where to get help for needy women and children I would ring up Mrs. Howard Cane. If she could not handle the situation herself she would say: 'Well I will speak to Howard about it when he comes in.' They would never fail me."

"People like that are the salt of the earth and when they pass out and go to their reward they are greatly missed."

"Mrs. Boyd and I extend our sincere sympathy to Mrs. Howard Cane and family in their bereavement."

Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King: "The passing of Howard Cane will be widely mourned. His many years of devoted public service as mayor of Newmarket, and later as sheriff of North York will long be gratefully remembered by all who knew him. I personally feel deeply the loss of an old and greatly valued friend."

Reeve Fred A. Lundy: "In expressing my regrets at the passing of the late W. H. S. Cane I am not unmindful that the town has lost a loyal friend and the county of York a valued official. It was my privilege to be associated with him on the town council during the years that he was mayor and I was always impressed with the keen interest he had in the town welfare."

"He was especially interested in the industry of the town and his efforts in this connection resulted in a fine addition to the industrial life of Newmarket. His passing will be regretted by all that knew him."

Davis brothers: "In the passing of Sheriff W. H. S. Cane, we pay tribute to one of the most dynamic personalities among Newmarket sons in the last six decades."

"Footprints in the sands of time" are left by the Cane family in Newmarket, and Howard will long be remembered as a leader in his generation."

George Vale: "The news of the passing of Sheriff Howard Cane was received with the greatest regret by all the citizens of Newmarket. While of late his duties as sheriff necessitated his residence in Toronto, Mr. Cane always retained his interest in the town where for so many years he, like his father before him, continually labored for the benefit of the community at large."

G. L. Manning: "The passing of W. H. S. Cane, sheriff of York County, has meant the loss of one of Newmarket's native sons who gave considerably of his time and efforts towards the bettering and development of his native town and country."

"He not only played an important part in the business life of the town of Newmarket, but also found time to serve on the local council for several years, latterly as mayor for three terms."

"People like that are the salt of the earth and when they pass out and go to their reward they are greatly missed."

"Mrs. Boyd and I extend our sincere sympathy to Mrs. Howard Cane and family in their bereavement."

From the time the doors of Trinity United church were opened Monday afternoon, there was a quiet coming of Newmarket citizens. Singly and in groups of two or three, they entered the church and moved to before the altar where the open casket lay. The air was heavy with the perfume of the banked delphinium, the roses and carnations and sweet peas, as those who had known William Howard Seba Cane stood a moment in silent respect before seeking their seats for the service.

Members of the Masonic Order came in single file to their seats in the front of the church, the faint music of their badges touching as they walked a counter-point to the slow notes of the organ.

With little noise, these present rose to their feet as the Cane family entered, then there was silence and the subdued light through the stained glass windows.

Rev. Henry Cotton opened the service reading the 23rd Psalm, then part of the 90th Psalm and verses from the Gospel according to St. John. The words rang truly in the silent church. "Yet though I walk through the valley of the shadow I shall fear no evil."

Rev. T. W. Neil spoke: "One of Newmarket's most honored sons comes home to rest. Newmarket was always his home. His heart was here. It was here that his father and grandfather loved and labored and laid a foundation enriched with ideals."

"Howard had a fine sense of honor and an unswerving character. He was one of God's good men."

"He gave his time and talents to the town and the town responded by making him mayor."

"Howard and Mrs. Cane gave three splendid sons to the services. He had given to Canada and the empire the best he had to give."

"As I think of Howard Cane I think of his outstanding characteristic which was kindness. He was not fussy, not demonstrative but very, very, kind. In Howard, you were conscious of a heart of sympathy and kindness."

Rev. Trevor Davis concluded the service with prayer.

Outside the church, the funeral cortege formed and moved slowly to Newmarket cemetery where Howard Cane was interred in the earth of his valley.

Among those attending the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cane, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cane and daughter, Miss Winnie Belfry, Miss Betty Grandy, Mr. Ernest Grandy, Mrs. Alan Cane, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beck, Miss Edna Anderson, Mrs. Jacob Smith, Mrs. and Mrs. Bamfield, Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Neal, Mrs. Wm. Allen, Mr. Zimmerman and Mr. Crulchanks (sheriff's office), Mrs. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Suter, all of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Harper and Mrs. Gordon Duran, Kitchener; Walter Reesor, Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hefley, Oshawa; Mrs. Barker, Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hefley, Aurora; Mrs. Jacob Smith.

HOWARD CANE

William Howard Cane has come home again to the valley in which he was born, which nurtured his youth and on which he impressed the stamp of unselfish service.

There is nothing we can say of Howard Cane but that hasn't been said better and with greater sincerity by those who knew him. Words from us would be pale, weak things before the spontaneous tributes paid him by his friends.

The book is closed; the record sealed. But the memory remains of a citizen of Newmarket and a friend to all men.

A REMINDER

Jules Castonguay, chief federal election officer, has placed orders for the printing of ballots and election literature. Parliament Hill is running an early election, possibly before the snow flies. We print this as a reminder. We don't use our vote often and we are sometimes apt to forget its value in blood men shed to give it to us and value in blood men are shedding to keep it for us.

We are not suggesting that you vote for this man or that; it would be presumptuous of us. We are reminding you of the responsibility of that vote to yourself, to your country, and above all, to the sons, brothers and husbands overseas. They are not dying that we may have the privilege because voting day is inconvenient to our plans, or because we have too far to go, or that we don't like the candidates or that we just can't be bothered.

HOURS OF WORK WITH PAY ACT

The hours of work with pay act has caused some confusion among merchants on Main St. We print the following excerpts from a letter received from Queen's Park by a merchant in Newmarket as a temporary answer to questions raised by the act.

The letter, which was signed by a member of the provincial labor board, reads in part:

"There is nothing contained in this act which cancels any present arrangement as to closing the retail establishments one half day per week.

"It is quite possible that the board in dealing with the application from the Ontario retail merchants association will at least allow such establishments to arrange their own daily hours of work providing the 48 hours in the week are not exceeded.

"It will be in order for you to continue your present working hours until such time as the board renders its decision in this case and until such time as you are advised to the contrary."

THE COMMON ROUND By ISABEL INGLIS COLVILLE

WHEN DREAMS COME TRUE

Have you ever had dreams of places from which you wakened as if from a trance? For twenty-three years I've had dreams like that about the St. Lawrence and Chazy Lake.

I tried to remember if the sunsets were really as gorgeous as we remembered or thought we remembered them, or if the silver path of the moon was as much like fairy pavement as we dreamed. But for twenty-three long years the man of the house and I took no holiday, so we had only dreams.

This year we took four days and went back, only to find that the grandeur of the mighty St. Lawrence seemed to have been enhanced by time and the loon's laugh in the twilight over Chazy Lake came with the same power to make one's heart forget forgotten things, as of yore.

While friend husband fished from dawn till dusk, with a zeal which I envied but did not care to emulate, I canoed over the peaceful lake waters and saw the changes time had made while a small cousin sat at my feet and sang the ends of each line of all the nursery rhymes his mother and I could remember.

And in the evenings our party of eight got together and sang the old songs that we sang twenty-four odd years ago, and felt that even the "four gentlemen of Studio A" could have done no better.

And to go to sleep with the gentle lapping of the water for a lullaby and wake to the smell of spruce and fir and the song of strange birds. I was glad to hear the song of the wren and robin, for I love to know the songsters. One thing we had forgotten about our old haunts was the rocks which cropped up in every direction. At home here, we had forgotten what great stretches of rock at most like pavement were, but we wondered how farmers could have crops near the river. In fact we saw no such fields of hay or ripening wheat as we saw as we neared home again.

I suppose this is the law of compensation in action—they have the river—we have the more abundant harvest.

We spent our last night with friends at cottage on the banks of the St. Lawrence. It was at Hillcrest and the last cottage, right on the crest, with the light-house almost at the door and the great grain boats, the sub-chaser and the Kingston passing within a few yards of the coast. For some reason they are not using the channel this year, and we lay and watched the brilliantly lit vessels slide past in the black night waters. In the morning they came two at a time laden with grain for overseas.

It was hard to tear ourselves away and face the prospect of perhaps another twenty years in a riverless land. But as we got closer home and caught our last view of Lake Ontario, we said goodbye with regret, but drove into the sunset surrounded by the promise of a glorious harvest, and feeling we had only exchanged one beauty for another.

And best of all—before us lay home, ready to unfold in the familiar things we loved. It was as if the house stretched out welcoming arms to receive us—it was HOME!

IT HAS

POWER TO SPARE

Rugged FORD VEHICLES, built strong and tough by Canadian workmen, have borne the brunt of many hard-fought battles. That amazing piece of engineering—the Ford V-8 Engine—is today supplying a goodly share of the horsepower so essential in waging modern warfare.

The Ford V-8 Engine drags guns into forward positions. It hauls troops from one part of the front to another. It lugs up ammunition, food, motor fuel; transports refugees and prisoners of war.

In the harvest field it is just as efficient, dependable and economical of fuel and oil as on the battlefield. Today it plays a prominent part in producing the nation's food and transporting it to market.

Whether it is being used to power an army truck, a universal carrier, or an artillery tractor on the war front, or the truck engaged in essential transport here in Canada, the Ford V-8 Engine is a power plant that is dependable and trouble-free. On the battlefield or the harvest field it has power to spare.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Holland Landing Boy Convicted Of Receiving

"I don't think that the army
wants that sort of person, in fact it has too many of that kind in the army as it is," commented Magistrate H. R. Polson in Magistrate's court, Newmarket, on Friday, on finding 17-year-old Harold Bate, Holland Landing, guilty on a charge of receiving stolen goods.
He remanded the youth until next week for sentence.
Defence counsel, Miss B. E.

Lyons, had pleaded for a suspended sentence, explaining that although the youth was only 17 he had already received his first army call
and it would not appear well for him to enter the service from jail.
The youth pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Called to the stand to give evidence, Donald Blake, 13, identified the bicycle exhibited in court as belonging to him. He gave the serial number as B9422, which number was pointed out on the bicycle.

Questioned as to how he had lost
the bicycle, the witness stated that it had been taken from the front of his home in Newmarket.

Chief Constable James Sloss told
his worship that he had investigated the theft of the Blake bicycle which was described to him as having a red frame with cream
fender and white torpedo light.
Chief Sloss said he found a bicycle
at the home of Cecil Stickwood, Holland Landing, the frame of which belonged to Donald Blake.
He then went to the home of Harold Bate where he questioned
the defendant about the bicycle, he stated.

Cross-examined by the defence as to the method of caution given to the defendant before he made a statement, Chief Sloss said that the youth was given the usual caution
that he did not have to make a statement but that if he did it would be used in evidence against him. He said that the accused was not under arrest at the time
and gave the statement of his own free will.

"Harold claims that he can neither read or write. Are you sure that he understood the nature
of the warning?" questioned Miss Lyons.

"Yes he did," replied the witness.
The defence argued that the statement given by Harold Bate
should not be admitted as evidence
on the ground that he did not understand the caution, but his witness ruled that the statement
was admissible, that the defendant
had understood.

Recalled to the stand, Chief Sloss
went on to say that the defendant
stated that he had purchased the bicycle from Donald Sweet.

"I questioned him about the bicycle parts," stated the witness.
"He later admitted selling the carrier for 35 cents. He said he did not know where the fender was.
I went to the workshop. Mr. Bate unlocked the door. I went in and found a fender lying on the floor
among numerous other parts. Mr.
Bate then went out and I called
Harold Bate into the workshop.
He said that the fender which I found in the shop was off the Blake bicycle. He denied knowledge of the light but before leaving he went into the house and got it."

"He denied stealing the bicycle,"
continued Chief Sloss. "He broke down and cried when I picked up the fender. He gave me the names of three boys who had stolen it.

He stated that the three boys
would do the stealing and bring the bicycles to him for alterations."

"What was the extent of the operations of the accused?" questioned Crown Attorney Arleigh Armstrong.

"There was a bicycle belonging to Donald Sweet in the shop," replied the officer. "There were numerous parts, tires, tubes and three bicycle seats."

Called as witness for the crown,
a 13-year-old Holland Landing boy stated: "I stole the bicycle at Newmarket and rode to Holland Landing. I hid it for about a week.
Harold Bate took it to his workshop. We took off the carrier and other parts." The youth stated that they intended to sell these parts.

"Why did you come to Newmarket," questioned the crown.

"Harold wanted me to steal
bicycles," was the reply. "I was to do the stealing, Harold the selling."
Harold: "He gave me tickets to the show and sometimes he gave me a quarter." The witness denied receiving any money for the Blake
bicycle.

Questioned concerning the caution
given by Chief Sloss, County Constable Ronald Watt told his worship that he was present at the time and was certain that the defendant understood its meaning
as he had been cautioned on three different charges.

"Isn't it odd that the statement wasn't taken down in writing instead of verbally?" asked the defence.

"Not in Holland Landing," replied the witness. "There you often run into many people who can neither read or write."

"The police came to the house and asked me if I ever saw the bicycle before and I said 'yes,'" stated
Harold Bate in the witness box.
They asked me if I stole the bicycle and I said 'no.' We sat in the car arguing while and Mr.
Sloss took me to the garage. He picked up the fender and asked me
if that one belonged to the bicycle.
I said that I got it from the Holland Landing boy. He asked me if I was a mechanic and I said 'yes.'
He asked me if I had the light and I said 'no.' Later I said I'd go and get a light and see if it belonged.
I got the light from the boy three days after I got the bicycle."

In reply to questions of his counsel, the defendant said that the Holland Landing boy came to him and said that he had a bicycle to sell. He gave the latter three dollars and promised to give him
another dollar and a half, he said.

"When you got the bicycle from the boy did you know where it came from?" asked Miss Lyons.

"No. He said that his father got it for him in the city," replied Harold Bate. He added that he later learned that it was stolen.
Cross-examined by the crown, the defendant denied having any arrangement with the boy whereby
the latter would steal the bicycles
and bring them to him.

"You would not handle a bicycle
if you knew it to be stolen?" asked
the crown.

"No, that's why I got rid of it,"
replied Donald Bate. "I sold it so as not to lose my money in it."
He admitted that he had previously been convicted of theft.

Magistrate Polson registered a conviction against the defendant
but said that he would hand down sentence next week. A charge of theft against the accused was withdrawn with the consent of the crown.

There were five charges of illegal possession of liquor heard by his worship, one of which was laid by County Constable William Hill of North Gwillimbury, one by Constable George Foster of Georgina,
two by Constable Joseph R. Foot of Whitechurch and one by County
Constable Ronald Watt, stationed in Newmarket. In each case the defendants, who were all Toronto
residents, were each fined ten dollars and costs of two dollars
each.

Constable Hill's case was that of Walter Beauchamp, whom the officer said he came across at 11:10
p.m. on July 1 at Jackson's Point with a partly consumed bottle of ale.

The charges of Constable Foot
were laid against Helen Mae Cooper and John B. Horner. The officer said that he had been patrolling Wilcox Lake on June 17 when he came across the former in a car
in which he found two bottles of ale, one of which was opened. He stated that the defendant admitted ownership. Constable Foot said that he was patrolling the same vicinity on July 2 when he came across Mr. Horner pouring beer
into a cup at a lunch-table in the park.

Constable Watt laid his information against William Voyce whose car, he said, he found parked in the lot at Wilcox Lake on July 2.
The officer said that the defendant,
who was seated beside the car,
had a full bottle and a partly consumed bottle of ale. The defendant admitted ownership of the beer.

Pleading guilty to a charge of
being intoxicated in a public place,
Charles Clayton, Reesor, was fined $10 and costs.

According to Constable Burke of Sutton, at midnight on July 6 he was called to a street at the side of a hotel in Sutton where he found the defendant in a helpless condition, wandering in the path of traffic. He said that he took the litter to the doctor who said that he was "very drunk."

Found guilty on a charge of careless driving, Stuart C. Terry, Toronto, was fined $20 and costs of nine dollars.

Gordon Bate, Newmarket, told his worship that on June 24 while driving on Yonge st., he attempted to pass the left-hand car but was unable to do so as the latter was weaving all over the road. At one time the car almost crashed. He reported the incident to the police.

"I received information from two different motorists that the accused was driving all over the road,"
testified Chief Constable Fisher Dunham of Aurora. "I stopped his car. He admitted that he had had a few drinks before starting out."

Other cases heard by Magistrate
Polson were: Charges laid by Con-

ENGAGEMENT

Mrs. and Mrs. Richard Williams, King, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Lorina Meneva, to Signin. Frank John Eaton, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eaton, London, Ont.

IN MEMORIAM

Thomas, in loving memory of a dear husband and grandfather, Edmund Adams, who died July 22, 1943.

In sorrow we waited day by day. And watched him suffering there. Slowly but surely passing away. From the pain he scarce could bear.

And then God called from His throne above. His suffering and pain is past. We know he has gone to realms of love.

And in Heaven has peace at last. Sadly missed and always remembered by wife and grandchildren.

Crocker—In loving memory of our dear father and grandfather, James H. Crocker, who died July 23, 1943.

Rest on, dear father and grandfather. For your weary days and restless nights are over. One year has passed, how well we do remember.

None will ever forget you, for all loved you dearly. Ever remembered by his children and grandchildren.

Crocker—In loving memory of my dear husband, James H. Crocker, who died July 23, 1943.

A beautiful memory of a loved one no dear.

A cheerful still with love sincere, A day that comes with and regret. And one that I will never forget.

6 miss his love, his cheery ways, With him I spent some happy days; As long as I live I will cherish his name.

In memory I see him just the same. Still in my heart he is living yet. For I love him too dearly to ever forget.

I love to think when life is done. Wherever heaven may be, That he'll be standing at the door. Up there to welcome me.

Sadly missed by his wife.

Rose—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. Chas. Rose, who passed away July 21, 1941.

A wonderful mother, woman and aid, One who was better God never made; A wonderful worker, so loyal and true.

One in a million—mother was you. Just in your judgment, always right; Honest and liberal, ever upright; Loved by your friends, all you knew.

A wonderful mother—husband and family.

Sanderson—In loving memory of my dear dad, Thos. H. Sanderson, who fell asleep on July 24, 1939.

Just today when I'm thinking. But then, dear Dad, that's nothing new.

leaders and equipment have been. We went without sleep for five days and nights but the tension carried on—we found we carried on without food for three days and never noticed it.

We captured a whole surgical outfit from the Germans on the first day here in France but I'm afraid it was not up to pre-war standards. If only we could carry home one-tenth of the German loot that we have to leave behind in order to remain mobile! Our own equipment is far superior anyway. In a day or so there's a good chance we may get some more but there is always a good chance that the Jerries will be using some of ours.

You'd laugh to see what is going on around the night now—we are ready to move and the vehicles are all going in the yard and one of my drivers is playing a French-Canadian reel, my batman is dancing a jig with his heavy boots on, the padre is calling off, and everyone's spirits are high. We're going ahead on another wild Canadian drive and everyone is trying to build up everyone else's spirits, but actually no one is down. I guess in time one can get used to excitement, but when it's all over I intend to be a general practitioner in a town the size of Bogartown where there won't be a bit of noise. You read in the papers about Monty's big barrage the other day—those shells were landing about one-half mile in front of our lines at the time and a racket like that I've never in all my life imagined. It was the biggest and heaviest barrage in history, and it really does your heart good to hear them go. After those first few days without support on the beaches, it's the best noise in the world.

We have been having quite a little time with the poor little French kids who haven't had a candy or a square meal for four years. In our rations we get some hard candy and chocolate and these kids are really being given the time of their lives. The boys in the R.A.P. and I got hold of one little fellow about ten or 12 years old who didn't have a decent stitch of clothing on and no boots—we really fixed him up. He had a couple of shrapnel wounds which he got when the Germans were trying to hold a town. He told us that a German threw a hand grenade which hurt him, but we hear some rare tales. We put underwear, socks, shirt, sweater and boots on him out of the kits of the lads. The Germans went through all these civilians' homes and took all their canned goods, etc., and they all had so much work to do each week for them and so much food to give in each week. We give them any surplus rations which we have and they are more than grateful.

There have been a fair number of amusing incidents during our stay here. The lads had prepared a real feast of stewed chicken and fried pork chops, and we asked them where they got them. One red-headed little Irishman, who is always right up on top, came back with—"Well, the chickens were shell-shocked so we put them out of their misery and the pig squealed so they stuck him." Another lad came in with the story that a four-to-five-month-old pig came sneaking up behind him and was singing, Deutschland Uber Alles, and was a prominent member of the Hitler youth movement so he just up and slaughtered him.

MIDGETS GAIN SECOND BERTH

Mrs. Roy Roberts Dies
Following Long Illness

The death occurred at her residence at Lake Wilcox on Saturday of Mrs. Roy Roberts, well-known resident of the district, following an illness of some years. Mrs. Roberts, who before her marriage was Velma Leary of Gormley, was born in the township, and for some years along with her husband kept store at the lake, catering to summer residents.

She was a member of St. John's Roman Catholic church, Newmarket, whence the funeral services were held by Rev. Dr. W. D. Muckle on Monday morning. Interment was at St. John's cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, and two sons, Gordon and Norman; three sisters, Mrs. Arthur Allen, Stouffville, Marie, Toronto, Audrey, Sault Ste. Marie; and one brother, John, Gormley.

82ND BIRTHDAY
MARKED BY TWO

One of King township's best known residents, Mrs. John Dutcher, celebrated her 82nd birthday July 12.

Mrs. Dutcher was born near Kettleby and has resided there all her life. She is in good health and still does a fair amount of reading, following the progress of the war closely. She is living at present with her daughter, Mrs. Jack Harman. Her husband died last May.

A member of Kettleby United church, she has been for many years active in church affairs. While no formal birthday party was held this year, she received a large number of greetings and presents from friends and relatives. Six of her ten children are still alive. They are: Herbert, New Westminster, B.C.; Mrs. Percy Travis, Toronto; Mrs. Wilfred Codlin and Mrs. Richard Morris, Newmarket; Mrs. Jack Harman, King; and Mrs. Bert Cutting, Weston.

Mrs. Annie McDowell Burrage, mother of J. M. McDowell, Aurora, celebrated her 82nd birthday July 11. Mrs. Burrage is enjoying good health. Mr. and Mrs. McDowell drove to Unionville where she is now residing, for the occasion.

Bandmaster Attends
Stratford Convention

Sgt. Robert Moore, R.C.A.F., Centralia, bandmaster of the Aurora Boys' band, attended the Canadian bandmasters' convention at Stratford over the weekend. Sgt. Moore is past president of the organization and was warmly welcomed by his fellow musicians.

It was announced by Prof. C. F. Thiele of Waterloo, well-known at both Aurora and Newmarket, that a camp had been secured by the organization at Bamberg, 12 miles from Waterloo, where band boys will be able to attend summer courses in the future.

WED AT SCHOMBERG

St. Patrick's church was the scene of the wedding of Madeline Reta Hanlon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hanlon, Lloydtown, and Patrick Joseph Trainor, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Trainor, Schomberg, on July 10. The marriage was performed by the groom's brother, Father Edgar Trainor, Perth, Ont. Mrs. John Hanlon, the bride's aunt, played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of white satin, fashioned on long torso lines. Her full-length veil was caught with a spray of flowers and she carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

Attending the bride was her twin sister, Florence, attired in Alice blue georgette, fashioned on lines similar to the bride's. She wore a blue veil and carried a bouquet of roses.

Best man was the groom's brother, Clarence Trainor, Schomberg. A reception was held at Toronto. Receiving was the bride's mother, wearing blue and beige printed georgette, large matching hat and a corsage of roses. Mrs. Margaret Peters, St. Catharines, received with her in the absence of the groom's mother, who was ill. Mrs. Peters was in a yellow ensemble, with yellow and black hat. She wore a corsage of yellow roses and forget-me-nots.

For a wedding trip to Montreal, the bride donned a two-piece blue dress, white accessories and corsage of pink roses. The bridal couple will live in Oshawa.

More Volunteers Urged
To Join Farm Commandos

"We have aided about ten farmers so far, mostly during the week-days or on Saturday afternoon," Fire Chief Harry Jones, head of the Aurora farm commandos, said recently. "With the harvest at hand there will be a great need for more volunteers and we would ask all those who can spare a few hours or a half day to register with us at once."

"Last year Aurora did well in aiding the farmers and this year there are even fewer available men, so far most of those working on the farms have been from the fire brigade, and we would like to see more business and professional men on the roster."

Names of those willing to aid should be left with either Chester Osborne at Rowland's store, or Chief Jones. Farmers needing help are asked to give at least a day's notice in advance.

Bantam Hardball Team
Practises For Series

Aurora bantam hardballers have had only one game so far this year, but the boys, under the direction of Delroy Babcock, are getting ready to play a series of games against Richmond Hill and Markham. Newmarket has no team in this series.

The youngsters were practising in the town park last week and there is plenty of talent. Several of the boys while still only 14 are capable of holding their own with the bigger boys.

Noted in action were the following likely candidates: Don Holman, Lorne Graham, Ronnie and Gerry Simmons, "Fat" Milne, Doug Wells, Bruce Rose, Leo Anthony, Bob Warlow, Cliff Case, Johnny King, Grant Preston, "Rocky" Stone and "Tuffy" Nesbitt.

Pte. Norman Scott Back
From Overseas Duties

Home from overseas for medical reasons is Pte. Norman Scott, Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott, Irwin Ave. Pte. Scott, who was formerly employed in a local store, enlisted with the Scottish unit in 1940, and took training at Niagara camp, the west coast, and Debert, N.S.

He went with his unit to Jamaica, and after many months there, returned to Canada last year before proceeding overseas last summer. Pte. Scott gives good reports of the hospitality of the English people, and the spirit prevailing between United Nations forces.

Aurora boys serving with the Argyls include Sgt. Kenneth Brown, Jimmy Cook, Theodore Bull and Leonard Chapman. All were in good health and ready for whatever might come in the future when he saw them last, Pte. Scott reported.

LIONS PREPARE
SPORT PROGRAM

Aurora Lions club are determined that Aurora youngsters will have an opportunity to learn the rudiments of good sportsmanship and obtain some capable coaching in different sports. To do this requires good organization, and a good deal of time, as well as a planned sports program.

With these ideas in mind the sports committee of the Lions, under the chairmanship of Leonard Simmons, have engaged the services of Delroy Babcock of the Aurora public school staff. Mr. Babcock, whose teams at the Aurora school have illustrated his ability to fulfill the Lions plans, is now looking after Aurora bantam hardballers in his spare time and throughout the fall and winter months will devote as much time as possible to Aurora youngsters.

The Lions hope to secure suitable hours from the municipality for the use of the arena and to see organized and supervised hockey carried on among the boys.

Present plans are primarily designed to look after the boys up to 14 years of age, the activities of lads older than that being somewhat restricted under wartime conditions by studies, cadet training, summer work, and after school hour duties.

"WALK" IS AT WOODBRIDGE

Aurora Royal Black Knights of Ireland will celebrate Derry day on Aug. 12 at Woodbridge, where the district walk will be held. The Aurora lodge is the only preceptory in York county outside of Toronto. Wor. Sir Kt. Jack Diamond of Keswick is preceptor.

Flare Fires Ammunition
Carried On Soldier's Back

Back from overseas suffering from shrapnel wounds in the left arm, chest, back and leg, is Sapper Donald Wilson, R.C.E. of Toronto and Kettleby. Spr. Wilson, 23, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilson of Toronto, who for the past 15 years have been summer residents of King township between the 4th and 5th concessions.

Enlisting in 1939 he went overseas the next year and was stationed in Italy until the Italian campaign, when he joined the invasion forces. In May he was carrying ammunition on his back when a flare set them afire. His chum cut them off his back and, when but a few feet away from the burning ammunition, it exploded wounding both Don and his companion, who has since died from the wounds received.

Spr. Wilson is back to receive medical treatment and he speaks highly of the morale and bravery of Canadian troops. He entered a military hospital this week. His father enlisted to fight in the Great War but

DOWN THE CENTRE

Good news comes from Indiana, beach on Lake Simcoe that the pride of Newmarket and ace forward of the Chicago Black Hawks, Bill Thoms, is summering nicely and regaining his lost strength. Bill plans to report for practice in October with the Thoms boys and should be able to pick up where he left off.

Mike Underwood, once pride of Markham junior hockey, and the Babe Ruth of the high school hardball circuit in the early 20's, is a neighbor of Thoms' as is Pat Patterson of Toronto, the well-known hockey referee. Underwood, after he left Markham, played senior hockey with Marlboros and was a teammate of Thoms' with a departmental store team in the Toronto mercantile league.

We have had several inquiries about Richmond Hill softballers and so we have dug up the dirt. The team is playing in the Wanless Park circuit in Toronto under the name of Rosehams and is wearing red and gold sweaters. At present they are doing fairly well, being ensconced in second place.

Charlie Ryan is manager of the team. Charlie Proctor, who in his day was one of the best all-round athletes in North York, starring at lacrosse, hockey, track and softball, is coach. Larry Lawrie, a Toronto boy, is handling the catching duties and is said to be good. Teddy Bennett, veteran chucker, is again on the mound and almost as good as ever. His slow "sucker" ball is still fooling the boys. Assisting him is a sensational youngster from Langstaff, Bill Bowen, who is developing fast.

Three Toronto boys handle the infield traffic in the persons of Tommy Young, 1b, Art Mihan, 2b, and Doug Hand, ss. Herbie Rose, 17-year-old Hill hockey player and a pretty good little athlete in most sports, is at third and really making good. Mihan is reputed to be a very smooth fielder and batter.

Art Cream, an old stand by of the Hill, has taken on a new lease of life in the outfield and is shagging them in old-time style. Doug Palmer of Maple, ex-King City hockeyist, is also doing pasture patrol and on occasions plays first base. Hal MacBrien, a Queen City lad, is the other regular outfielder, with the old slugger, Huck Young, in reserve.

An accident via a trap-door has temporarily deprived the Ryan men of the services of Red Mitchell, ex-Chicago Black Hawk player who suffered an ankle injury and was lucky to escape so lightly. Alf Stong, once leading lacrosse goal-tender of the district, is a pretty fair softballer and on occasions is available for action with the team. Brother George Stong, who possessed more speed than any other pitcher we remember in York-Simcoe league, is, of course, overseas. That's a summary of the present Hill team and while perhaps not as strong as some of the home-brew teams of a few years ago, they are doing mighty well.

Markham juniors right now, even with the hot weather, are busy lining up a mighty sweet team for next winter's puck season, something none of the other teams, we wager, have started to think about even, except possibly "Farmer" Rowntree, who is probably, as usual, dreaming of the hockey season as he ploughs a straight furrow or pitches a cock of hay. Whitty and Richmond Hill, with comparatively young teams last season, should be able to have teams capable of competing with the Markies, and we hope Cliff Gunn and Jimmy Walker will be in the same boat at Newmarket.

Red Crighton, of last year's Brampton Bulls hockey team, is now posted at Camp Borden for advanced training and is doing a bit of lacrosse playing with the armored corps boys during the summer months.

Did you know that it was in 1799 that the first roller-skating on record took place? Bet you didn't think that as you watch the kids in the old home-town have plenty of fun during the summer months. It seems a certain Mrs. Cornelly, the Eliza Maxwell of her day in London's Soho, gave parties quite often that were different. A gent by the name of Joseph Merin, a violinist, conceived the idea of putting wheels on his shoes at one of her masquerades by way of novelty. (No relation, incidentally, to the magician at King Arthur's court.)

Merlin raised his bow and rolled forward, but found he could neither steer nor stop, with the result he lashed a $200 mirror of his hostess' to smithereens as well as cutting himself and smashing his fiddle. While his entry was not the social success he had dreamed about, roller-skating was born, and from then on continued to grow in popularity, until today we have roller-skating carnivals, the same as ice carnivals, and many business firms use them for speed and efficiency. Best part of roller-skating, however, is the pleasure it brings kids, even though adult pedestrians and motorists sometimes grow grey earlier about it all as well as widening their eyes vocabulary.

Dint Scott, ex-Barricade, who played against Aurora juniors and Sutton Greenhills as a member of the Collingwood Shipbuilders three years ago, is overseas. He is a corporal with the army service corps.

Walter Harrison, ex-goalie for Mimico Beach, tended goal for Newmarket camp last week as his former team-mate defeated "Plicker" Bowman's boys 2-1. It was not the fault of Harrison, however, who played a strong game and adds strength to the Redmen. Unless the boys from 23 hit a winning streak soon they will have little chance of reaching the T. and D. play-offs. They should stand a good chance of winning the armored corps championship, as they recently defeated Camp Borden ordinance who, along with No. 3 C.A.C.T.R., are about the best team in Camp Borden.

Keith Bush, goal-tender for Sutton junior Greenhills in the local O.H.A. group a few years back and later sub-goalie for the intermediate team in his home-town, is now on active service with Canada's army.

Marry Comrie, the old reliable hailer of Newmarket camp, who also was loaned to some of the Newmarket civilian clubs, took the mound for the Redmen in the Congress league but didn't have much luck. Ivan Koepke, the camp's southpaw, has not been able to untrack himself so far this season, although having plenty of stuff. That has left the main burden to youthful Jack Rudderham and Jack has been used inopportunistically, his mates failing him when he starts and giving him good support when he made relief appearances belatedly.

Sgt. Clair Exelby even took the mound the other night in a relief role and like all his efforts, turned in a dandy one, and Ex. doesn't profess to be a pitcher. Speaking of pitching, have you had a look this year as young "Gooch" Upton, pitcher for Richmond Hill juvenile hardballers? The 15-year-old youngster, who comes from Elgin Mills, is a real comer and a few weeks back pitched the first no-hitter we ever remember being twirled in hardball of any variety in North York (if we're wrong drop us a line).

We do remember Lefty Lennox, Bas. McHale, Hoc. Gordon and Hal Leary, tossing one-hitters, but generally there was some gent who would spoil a really good pitching effort by an unimportant bingle. Upton got his hall of fame game against the Aurora kids. The youngster played bantam hockey for Richmond Hill lads in the T.H.L. series and was a valuable member of the good Richmond Hill high basketball team which won junior secondary school honors. He is also one of the best track youngsters at the southern school, just for all-round purposes.

Carman Bush, one of Toronto's leading hardballers in his day and one of the best judges of good kid ball players we know, thinks so highly of Upton that he has him performing for Columbus Boys' club in the Toronto league. Upton is not an import to the local ball league, it is the city who is doing the importing. Considering it is the first year in action for most of the boys, there are some pretty promising pitchers performing.

Mickey Lagosier, a French-Canadian youth from Timmins now making Aurora his home, has tossed fairly good ball and also is a slugger of note. Bill Hopper, the Newmarket ace, has twirled some good games, as has Broughton. Howard Forgie has likewise done well for Markham, and there have been a good many other kids take the mound who we know nothing about.

The fact is that from all we have seen and the general talk of the fans, in a few years there should be some classy junior and intermediate ball in North York and this district will have an edge on most in the province. We understand that Charlie VanZant intends to send his youthful charges into the O.A.B.A. midget ball championships. The experience should do (Page 7, Col. 3)

Pepperlaw, July 13—The war committee of the Pepperlaw Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Fred Hinchey on June 29. It was decided to hold a bingo on Mrs. Joe Laviolette's lawn Aug. 4.

A letter was read by Mrs. Albert Weir from the salvage committee, asking for more paper. Boxes were packed consisting of the following articles: 106 pairs of pillow cases, 18 nightgowns, three pairs of socks, three scarves, four pairs of pyjamas, two children's dresses and magazines, to be sent to the Salvation Army.

The Pepperlaw Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. D. Woodrow at Jackson's Point. There was a quilting in the afternoon, followed by a picnic on the beautiful lawn overlooking the lake. The youngest person present was little Miss Mary Woodrow, now four weeks old.

WE ARE MAKING THE MOST OF WHAT WE HAVE!

There are upwards of 180,000 more Bell telephones in service today than when the war began.

NOW WE ARE "SCRAPING THE BOTTOM OF THE BARREL"

In spite of the most careful use of available supplies, we have had to use up most of the 'margins' built into telephone plant. We are working facilities at maximum capacity.

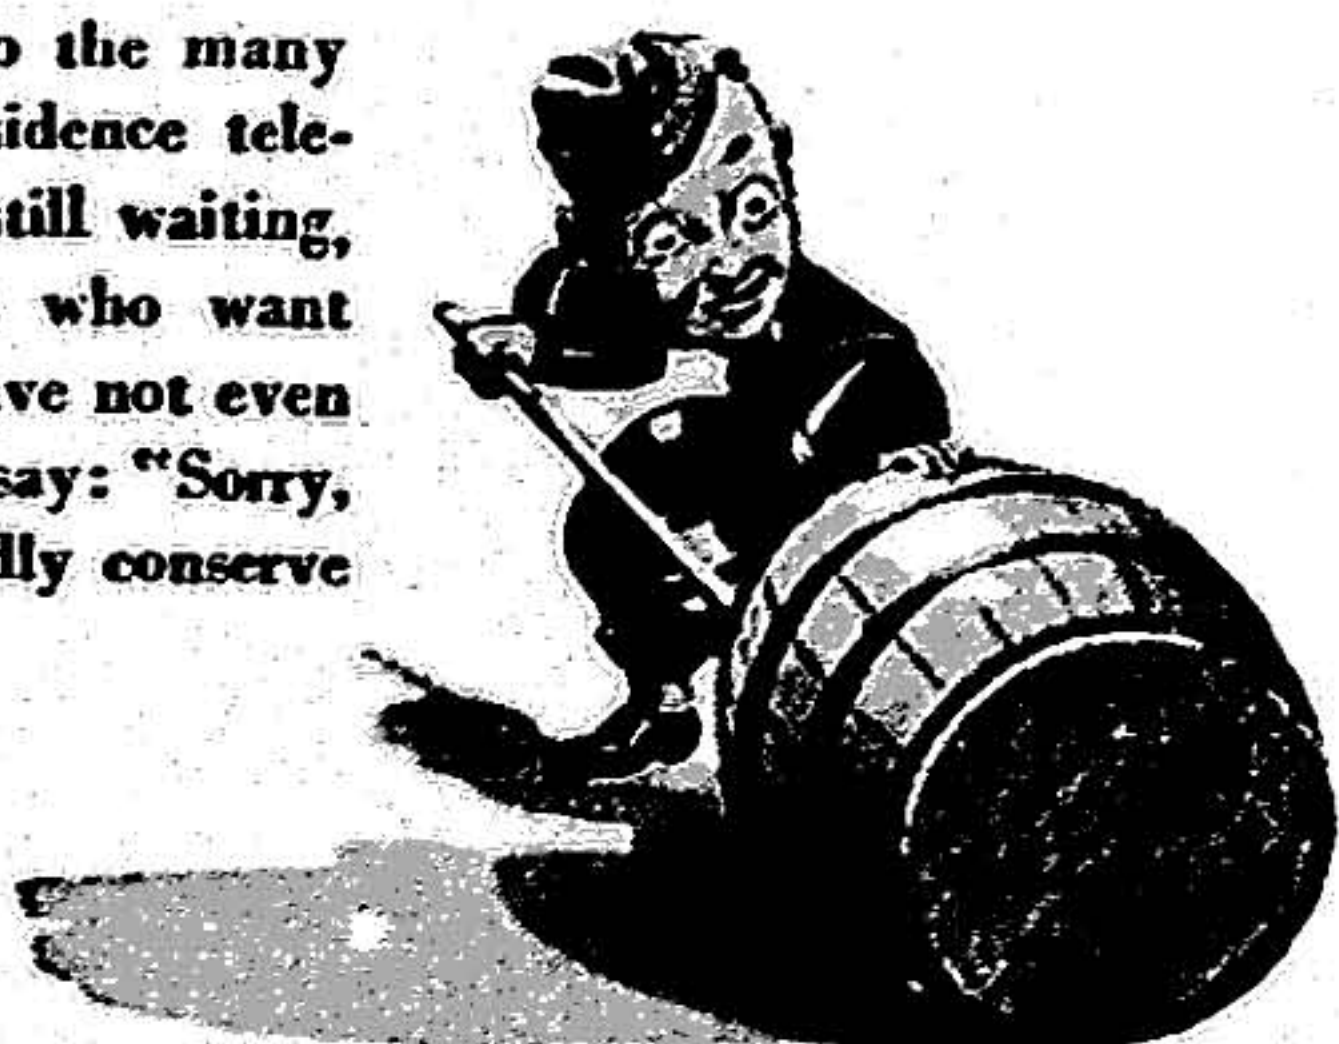

Telephone sets, switching equipment for central offices, and other parts of telephone plant cannot be obtained for civilian use because telephone material is still going to war.

We regret that to the many applicants for residence telephones who are still waiting, as well as those who want telephones and have not even applied, we must say: "Sorry, but we must rigidly conserve remaining supplies of telephones and materials. We can install telephones for only the most essential service."

So long as the needs of war have first claim, we shall have to keep on doing the best we can with the equipment obtainable.

Meanwhile, we say "Thank You" for your cordial understanding of our position.

Speeding Victory!

Bus travel used to be fun. But, like many things we always enjoyed in plenty, bus service is pretty scarce now for ordinary every-day travellers. Many of the buses that used to serve you are busy on vital war jobs. Buses and tires and gasoline must be saved for these jobs—so your bus service has been reduced. In some districts it has been discontinued. Your cooperation is helping the bus services do their part in hastening Victory. Then, bus travel will be more fun than ever before, with plenty of thrills and surprises in the smart new models Gray Coach Lines is planning for you.

the boys good, but the supporters should not expect too much. We think we are correct when we say that there is no B grouping for smaller centres in hardball as there is in hockey, which means that small towns have to compete against the city teams.

Toronto, Hamilton, Guelph and other cities (we mustn't miss St.
Kitts lest we offend Charlie Holmes) have been playing hard-ball for years and regularly turning out crack teams. In fact this year some of the kids attracted attention from the professional scouts when they practised at Maple Leaf stadium. We do not say this to discourage the venture
but rather to show the kids they will have to bear down and listen
to their mentors if they want to make a good showing.

Birth certificates are an expense
that will have to be borne too, as
the O.A.B.A. are strict about this.
Now is the time to ascertain the correct ages. A month or two matters nothing in the North York
games but it is essential in the O.A.B.A.

Play-offs, regardless of the final standing, will be as follows: Newmarket and Aurora will meet in the north half and the Hill and Markham in the south half, with the zone winners meeting. The idea is to save gasoline and time
and is to be commended. That goes too, for allowing all four teams in the semi-finals. The Lions club behind the circuit must be well pleased with the results to date,
and the men responsible, some of whom have no children of their own, deserve a big hand.

One of Canada's war heroes
already decorated is Major Arthur Welsh, the fighting postmaster of Sunderland. Around 15 years ago,
as "Bunty" Welsh, he was a pretty capable ball player, and after he retired served on the O.A.B.A. executive. After leave in Canada he has returned overseas and will likely see further action.

The Canadian army high jump
record was broken last week in the Camp Borden championships by a long geared western armored corps lad, Hugh Taylor, of Chisholm Mills, Alta. The tall Taylor has had plenty of experience jumping against the famous Haley brothers of west coast and Olympic fame.

He jumps exceedingly well for
he stands over 6'7", and is very deceiving, invariably knocking down the bar on his first try and then soaring like a bird when he gets the range. We were surprised that 5'10" was the army record,
and who held it we don't know,
but we had thought the Dales boys
from Newmarket had done higher.
Taylor leaped a quarter inch over the record and could have done more. As a matter of fact the bar at the ends over which part of his body went stood six feet but it had a sag in the middle which was spotted by the officials. The actual measuring for the new record was well done so that there can be no dispute about it.

Leut. Jimmy Holmes, ex-Newmarket camp track star who went down to defeat in the century on July 1 to O'Brien of the navy and Cpl. Jack Life of Newmarket, failed to place in the 100 yards but did take the 220 yards without effort.
We doubt if Stevens of Newmarket,
who beat him last time out, would repeat now as Holmes is rounding
into shape again.

Armored Corps incidentally did very well indeed, No. 2 finishing second in total points and No. 1,
which generally gets the Newmarket products, finishing fourth.
Those Brampton camp lads, who took the cross-country running honors a few weeks back, played a big part in the No. 2 successes.

Boondie Rawlings, former Aurora
high school athlete and King City
hockeyist, is now stationed at Dartmouth, Nova Scotia, and playing a bit of softball for his wing
in the station league. Queens York Rangers, the county reserve
unit, have planned for a whole day
of sports while at Camp Niagara early next month. In the past the custom has been to run off events
in the evening or participate in a general camp field day. Lt.-Col.
C. E. Evans, present commanding officer, believes in plenty of sports
for his men, and heading the regimental committee are Lt. G. E.

Queensville

The vacation school at Maple
Hill Baptist church opened on Monday morning at 9:30. There was a splendid attendance, which was
well for the success of the school.
A number attended from Queens-ville. Miss Veales and Miss Moore, Toronto Baptist seminary, were in charge. The school will continue until Friday morning at Maple Hill
and will close there with a public meeting at night at 8 p.m.

Rev. Gordon Lapp of Keswick will conduct the worship service.
The second week of the school will be held in Queensville United church, opening on Monday and continuing to the end of the week.
The first Cross societies of East Gwillimbury are conducting a salvage drive for paper and rags. The salvage for Queensville district
should be left at Geo. Pearson's garage before the end of the month. The need is urgent and it is hoped that everyone will cooperate. The papers must be securely tied in bundles.

P.O. Clair Smith spent a few days at home before going to Trenton, where he is posted to a flying instructors' school.
Recent guests at the Hulse home were Mrs. E. Wolfe and daughter, Mae, of Toronto, Mrs.
R. J. Cameron, Bala Beach, and
Mr. and Mrs. Cole, Aurora.
Mrs. A. Howard, Brantford,
spent last week with her sister,
Mrs. Robt. Putnam.
Mrs. Charles Milstead is visiting her sister in Welland.

Pearson and C.S.M. Bill Stocks, all of which means a lot of fun for the boys from north York who will soon be on their way for two weeks
under canvas.
There is still time after reading
this, if you act fast, to get on the unit's strength and proceed to Niagara. Semi-finals for the club championship at the Aurora Golf and Country club finds youth in one bracket and experience in the other.

Wiley Jones, energetic young
Aurora hockeyist, meets Keith Nisbet, who also excels at tennis,
while club champion, Bill Books,
one of the most consistent golfers
we have ever seen, meets Herman Gillroy of Newmarket in the other.
Gillroy is playing mighty fine golf
these days and has been near the top every year, so perhaps Her-man
will make the grade this year.
Harry Davis, son of the St. Andrew's College cricket coach and former member of Roy Middle-brook's Aces in the Aurora town hockey league, is on a Canadian vessel in European waters these days and is suspected of having seen a bit of action lately. Harry at last reports was in the pink.

From Montreal comes news that Wes. Beest has been transferred from a military to a civilian hospital and is still receiving medical attention after an illness now of over 10-weeks' duration. Wes-many friends will wish the great little all-round athlete a speedy recovery.

By virtue of a win last week,
Newmarket camp have boosted themselves into a tie for fourth with No. 1 C.A.C.T.R. whom they defeated. Along with T. and S.
Wing, who have three postponed
games, the Redmen stand a good chance of going higher and making the play-offs, as some of the other teams are feeling the effects of overseas drafts. If the McDonald nine can get in the semi-finals they will be difficult to beat. No. 2,
No. 3 and T. and S. all appear certain of berths when the chips will be down, but that fourth spot stands wide open yet. As the week
opened the standing was as follows:

	P	W	L	Pc.
T. and S. Wing	7	6	1	86.7
No. 2 C.A.C.T.R.	7	6	1	86.7
No. 3 C.A.C.T.R.	9	6	3	66.6
No. 1 C.A.C.T.R.	7	3	4	42.2
Newmarket	7	3	4	42.2
T.S.R.	9	2	7	22.2
Orillia	9	2	7	22.2

First four teams to reach the playoffs.
Last week, T.S.R. was credited with a win over Orillia in error and when the score sheet was received
the verdict was reversed.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

stable James A. Leeder, Newmarket; Sadie Gelles, Henry Dewsbury,
both of Toronto, William Huntington, R. R. 1, Claremont, Ont., and Harold Winch, R. R. 3, Sutton, each fined $1 and costs for entering a stop street in Newmarket.

Charges laid by Constable George Foster, Georgina township; Charles Byland, John Ross, both of Toronto,
and Richard Harding, St. Catharines, each fined $15 and costs,
Elgin Nicholson, Toronto, fined $10
and costs, Frank Cohen, Toronto,
fined $9 and costs, and Coleridge C. Peterson, Toronto, fined $5 and costs. In each case the defendant was fined for exceeding the speed limit.

Charges of speeding laid by County Constable William Hill,
North Gwillimbury; Solomon Fitch,
fined $15 and costs, and Arthur Stewart, fined $15 and costs. Both motorists are Toronto residents.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT JULY 7

Magistrate H. R. Polson dismissed
the charge of theft against Harry Shaw, Keswick, and advised Alfred Irving, on whose farm Mr. Shaw worked as manager, to take the matter to the civil court. Mr.
Irving contended that the defendant
had stolen a heifer valued at $65.
Mr. Shaw pleaded not guilty to the charge.

According to Mr. Irving, who lives in Toronto, he had had 53 head of cattle on his farm in North Gwill-imbury, 43 of which he sold at an auction last fall. All his cattle were registered and had numbers tattooed on their ears. The witness stated that he wintered the cattle
remaining head of cattle and sold them to a Mr. Horne on May 10.
When Mr. Shaw rounded up these cattle there were only nine. The latter told him that he would search for the lost heifer. Mr. Irving declared.

Cross-examined by Defence Counsel N. L. Mathews, Mr. Irving stated that he could not describe the missing heifer as to markings
and stated that she bore the registered number 1XATV in her right
ear. He denied telling Mr. Shaw that he could sell any of the animals or that the latter handled large sums of money for him. He also denied receiving any money from Mr. Shaw for the sale of a heifer.

John Harper, Keswick, testified that he had purchased a heifer
from Mr. Shaw for $65, believing the latter to have permission from Mr. Irving to sell. This heifer, he said, bore the serial number of the missing heifer but not the markings as described by the police.

"On May 19 I interviewed Mr.
Shaw for a description of the heifer," testified County Constable William Hill. "Mr. Shaw described the heifer as a Jersey, with white swish, a star on her forehead and a white strip on her side. On May 20 I received from Mr. Horne the ear tag number. On June 21 Constable Morton and I went to Kes-wick to see Mr. Harper. On examining the heifer I found the ear
tag number which corresponded to the numbers received from Mr.
Horne. This heifer did not have the markings as given to me by Mr. Shaw. Later I again interviewed Mr. Shaw and told him about the heifer at Mr. Harper's.
He said that this heifer had nothing to do with the one that Mr.
Horne had bought. He said that this heifer was not one of the ten that he had sold to Mr. Harper and turned the money over to Mr. Irving."

In his defence, Mr. Shaw told his worship that there had been 11 head
of cattle left after the auction sale
in November, 1943, and that Mr.
Irving had given him permission to sell the cattle and horses if he could do so. He said that he had sold a heifer to Mr. Harper and given the money and the ear tag
number to Mr. Irving. Of the ten

THE NEWMARKET ERA AND EXPRESS, THURSDAY, JULY 20TH, 1944

remaining cattle left one was missing when he rounded them up to deliver to Mr. Horne. This bore the markings he had given to the police. He believed it might have been stolen or strayed.

"I am inclined to believe in this case that it is a civil matter,"
stated Magistrate Polson. "There is not enough evidence to convict him in this court. He might be guilty in neglecting his duty in not taking care of the cattle. However,
Mr. Irving can sue him in civil court."

Other defendants found guilty by Magistrate Polson were: Harry Hulse, Queensville; Robert T.
Flemming, R. R. 3, Tara; John W.
Kirkpatrick, Alward G. Lindsay,
both of Toronto, and Bruce Fairley, Aurora, who were each fined one dollar and costs for entering stop streets in Newmarket. In each case Constable James A. Leeder laid the information. Frank P.
Giffen, Toronto, was fined $15 and costs and Alvin S. Arnold, Zephyr, and Sara Reddon, Toronto, were fined $5 and costs for exceeding the speed limit. The first charge was laid by Constable William Hill

of North Gwillimbury and the last two by Constable George Foster of Georgina township.

David Krangle and J. D. Moore,
both of Toronto, were each fined $3 and costs for failing to produce their operator's license at the request of County Constable Ronald cases.

Watt, W. J. Pickard, Ltd., Toronto, was fined $10 and costs for failing to produce a commercial vehicle
permit, and for having inefficient
brakes on their cars, Walter Archbald, R. R. 1, Schomberg; Harold Dooks, R. R. 2, King, and Clare
Kirby, Cookstown, were each fined $10 and costs. Constable Watt laid the informations in these last
cases.

FOR ALL-OUT READABILITY

IT'S sheer excitement and dramatic intensity. THE RED COCK CROWS, by Frances Gaither, ranks among the best. (Macmillan, $3.00). This is a superb story of a Southern community of lapsed warmth, gay parties and the grandeur of plantation life whose surface calm is suddenly broken by the dark forces which have been stirring underneath, and the story sweeps along to an inevitable and explosive climax. "One of the distinguished novels of 1944."—Lewis Ganner, N.Y. Herald Tribune.

AND FOR A BOOK to initiate you into life as it is today in the Sahara Desert. Inquire at your library, about VIND IN THE SAHARA, by R. V. C. Bodley, ex-British officer who takes up life as an Arab to explore the living and thinking habits of a race whose customs have not changed in a thousand years. Bodley lives as a nomad sheep-raiser, dependent as an Arab on wind and weather and the survival of his flocks for his livelihood. He absorbs something of the philosophy of the Arab, learns in unassuming humility from his native culture. A book to enrich your library. Longmans Green.

NEWS FOR HOUSEWIVES

Now that preserving time is here again, many women are learning that it is not necessary to sterilize jars by boiling. Merely wash jars carefully, then rinse them in a solution of Javex, followed by another rinsing in sterile or boiled water. This process saves considerable time and is the modern way to save fuel and trouble in this business of seasons when help is scarce.

Javex has a variety of other vital uses around the house, cleaning, bleaching, deodorizing and, incidentally, cleaning like magic the burn from the bottom of a saucepan or baking dish.

WHEN THE FAMOUS 'HAY DIRT' began to be talked about in the United States, many people were urged to believe it could accomplish the seeming wonders others claimed for it. After years of trial and proof, Dr. Hay's book on proper food combinations for health is still a best seller. People who, like the author, have followed the diet are still enthusiastically trying to convert their friends to Hay's simple method of "eating better health through the simple combinations of everyday food."
